INNOVATIVE EDUCATION FURNITURE

We are everywhere where education is

Emko Education Solutions has been the leading manufacturer of education equipment in Turkey since 1979. Emko, which designs products for educational furniture, educational technologies and office solutions, has undersigned many firsts that shape the sector. It has enabled the development of the sector by producing white enamel writing board, polypropylene student chair and polyurethane edged desk for the first time in Turkey.

By designing digital and analog systems together, it has succeeded in producing innovative solutions that make life easier. With this success, in 2019, it became one of the top 10 educational technology companies in Europe. It continues to produce innovative products that inspire education with the latest technology smart boards, innovative workshop designs and different concept classroom designs.

Emko, which has a worldwide sales and distribution network, has a factory in Istanbul and sales offices in Ankara, Estonia and Germany. Emko, which has been the name of quality in its sector since the day it was founded, with the importance it has given to quality, its determination to achieve firsts, and after-sales service support, continues to be on the ground when it comes to education.

ARCHITECTURAL SUPPORT

Our architectural team, who are experts in the field of education, when reflecting educational understanding on designs, they highlight the vision of the educational institutions by considering ergonomic, pedagogical and didactic approaches.

PRODUCTION

We produce items with ergonomic approaches that comply with high quality standards and training requirements. We care not only about the durability of the products, but also that they are suitable for children's use, pedagogical development and posture.

INNOVATION

By building bridges between educational furniture design and contemporary pedagogical approaches, we design both innovative and durable products. We reflect the education system of our age in the architecture of educational institutions by designing educational areas with products suitable for the modern education approach.

GLOBAL

We contribute to the development of educational furniture by blending the local education culture with modern approaches. With our wide sales network, our dealers and branches in various countries, we are everywhere where education is.

Emko is all over where education is...

We consider the pedagogical requirements of education together with educators. Since we only design educational areas, we are able to design areas suitable for modern education approaches. In the products we have developed for all age groups, by creating ergonomically appropriate designs, we keep the progress of children in the foreground. By evaluating pedagogy and ergonomics together, we aim to bring functional education areas to life.

Combining analog and digital...

While we design innovative educational furniture with the Emkoedu brand, we are working on educational technologies with our Emkotech brand. While reflecting the contemporary education approach to our designs, we design by blending education technology and innovative education furniture. Thus, our education areas designs come to life with a 360 - degree education approach.

Designs suitable for new education trends...

The modern education approach revealed new educational trends by blending with today's technology. We have developed many products and programs to provide easy access to information for educator and for the student and to adapt these technologies to education. Using analog and digital technologies together, we combined the tradition and the future on a common ground.

We aim to enable internalize the designs of appropriate education areas with institutional educational approach, personal and flexible education, flipped classroom, blend and hybrid education trends.

KINDERGARTEN

Everything is for kids...

Experts observe that when educational materials are designed according to the world of children, children's self - confidence develops faster because they can meet their own needs.

Cabinet sizes that children can easily reach, tables without sharp corners, wooden textures and educational furniture that prioritizes naturalness provide areas where children focus on education more comfortably.

Emko; has adopted the understanding of making production taking into account children's ergonomic structure and health.

While offering solutions by making architectural designs suitable to the area, products are designed suitable for the age groups that will use it. Comfort areas have been created with cupboards, benches and beanbag chairs that children can use practically. With specially designed counters that reflect the identities of institutions, waiting areas for parents and decor works that will strengthen children's imaginations, you will enter the children's world.

*The "E" state of education!

In recent years, the rapidly changing educational materials have also changed the expectations of the users. While the previous educational furniture was intended to be only robust, ergonomic, aesthetic and functional became more prominent with the introduction of technology into the education sector. While designing educational materials for classrooms, Emko produces pedagogical, didactic products according to their behavior patterns by putting the student at the center. For this purpose, concept classes suitable for age groups have been created. Thanks to aesthetics designed models that move easily are suitable for group work with their modular structures.

Are you ready for action?

Emko Line desks, which will catch up with the fast-learning ability of the new generation, take their place in the classrooms, while the solid, healthy and practical desks turn the classrooms into more lively living spaces.

LINE⁺ PLUS SERISI

Private desks, not for the class...

The desks that restrict your mobility, that cannot be adjusted and that are not suitable for your height, disrupt your body anatomy.

The desks produced in uniform standards oblige students to sit in the back row when they are tall, and in the front row when they are short.

While the Emko Line+ desks provide movement in the classroom, it allows students to adjust their order according to their own height and structure.

Personal desk, Emko Line+ desks are now more flexible...

The desks that do not allow flexibility in the classrooms prevent the student from learning comfortably and also disrupt the ergonomic structure of the body. To bring up healthy individuals, start the change from classes!

Classes, where students spend the most time, will have more flexible use with Emko Line+. With its system that eliminates the height difference by moving up and down, Emko Line+, the order of the new era, will create active working areas in the classroom thanks to its wheel system.

Each student can adjust the Line Plus Table according to his/her own height by using the height adjustment latch.

Modern classrooms with Emko Line+...

With Emko Line+ desks that increase mobility, you can use it effectively anywhere in the classroom. By combining it with Alto chairs, you can create comfortable working environments for students.

WORKSHOPS IT WORKSHOP

Information technology workshops basically teach the use of computers. With the rapid development of technology, educational institutions have started to process trainings such as software and coding with this course.

Following these developments closely, Emko has updated its educational furniture based on these studies. The work desks in the workshops are positioned by the walls so that the teacher can easily see the screens of the students. Alto movable chairs are used for the children to move freely in the direction they want. A robotic desk, which is a study area, was designed in the middle of the classroom so that students could observe their prototype work.

WORKSHOPS PAINTING WORKSHOP

In visual arts education; It is aimed that the students can express their feelings, thoughts and impressions and bring their creativity to an aesthetic level. While students gain the ability to understand and evaluate visual arts, they grow up as individuals who can continue their artistic development. For this reason, by using the right educational furniture, you can enable these skills to emerge better when a workshop environment is created rather than a standard classroom. You can turn your classroom into an art workshop with large flat tables that will allow them to work comfortably and comfortable seating such as stools and bean bags.

WORKSHOPS

WOOD WORKSHOP

Woodwork in schools; These are workshops where children can develop themselves in hand-eye coordination, spatial awareness, sense of sensitivity and understanding how to use potentially dangerous vehicles safely. It is just as important in the furniture used to ensure that these areas are safe. Tables, work benches and cabinets with high durability are produced accordingly. The materials used for the safety of children must be regular so that they do not pose a danger. Bench model with work box and shelf meets this need.

Nutrition is as important as education and training for all institutions. Dining hall equipment, combined with an innovative concept and maximum functionality, should be hygienic products that are easy to clean. By using products whose surface is resistant to cleaning materials, Emko both provides a hygienic environment and aims to use it for a long time.

We offer high quality conference chairs according to the needs of institutions for conference rooms. We consider the health and comfort of the users by making designs suitable for the ergonomic structure. We reflect the vision of the institutions by carrying out architectural works suitable for the areas with our various models.

Locker rooms are areas that students use both collectively and individually. Your changing rooms will remain tidy, clean and hygienic with products made of high-quality materials that are easy to clean and do not rust, complying with hygiene rules.
